CANADA AND THE CHINESE.

The Dominion Government Befases to

Several attempts have been made by labor organizations of the Dominion to induce the government to impose further restrictions on Chinese immigration. The government has just passed an order in council which practically settles its bill: policy in that regard. The order, after Inc. reciting the circumstances which called it forth, says:

which could be construed by the imperial government as inimical or as infringing upon treaty rights.

"In view of the commercial relations of Canada with China, it is not expedient to change the provisions of the Chinese immigration act nor to take any action that might be considered by the Chinese

WILL BE A BRITON BOLD.

Mr. Aster 1s Ambitions and Will Swear Allegiance to the British Queen.

It is now understood that Mr. W. W. Astor intends to apply for naturalization papers and become a British subject. He cannot indeed, under the new property laws, hold freehold real estate without so doing. His ambition, so says rumor, runs to political life in the commees, with a possible barenetey and subsequent peerage in the future, which might land him in the house of lords. He is not the first American who has abandoned his native land for the mother country and been rewarded with a

The late Sir Curtis Lampson of Boston was a case in point. His con succeeded to the baronetcy, and his very elever daughter became the wife of Frederick Locker, the poet. Mr. Astor's political aspirations, by the way, will not be forwarded by his recent move of closing to the public the terraces at Cliveden, which were formerly much enjoyed by frequenters of the River Thames, and it is rumored that he will soon withdraw also the privilege of pienicking in Cliveden woods,-San Francisco Argonaut.

A Pitiful Procession.

The defeated and sorely disappointed majority of the army of boomers that raced into the Cherokee strip and buttled for claims there has been straggling out the opening. Thousands have been brought out on the same cars that carried them in. Many hundreds have passed through Arkansas City in wagons and on horseback, while a great number of unfortunates have been and still are tramping it back. It has been a pitiful procession, for the disgust and dejection of the majority, many of them homeseekers and not mere speculators, are be-yord expression.—Oklahoma Letter.

At a reception in Unity church to the visiting delegates to the parliament of religion, the Rev. Robert Collyer told a story which runs as follows:

A farmer met a parson and said to him, "I remember a sermon you preached 20 years ago." "Indeed," replied the parson, "and what was the text?" "I don't remember the text, but the sermon remains in my mind." "And pray what, then, was the substance of the sermon?"

Well, I can scarcely word it properly, but it amounted to this—that 'theology is not religion by a - sight!"-Chicago Tribune.

Passing Around the Hat.

Express agents on southern railroads are passing the hat around in a novel way. The hat is an old slouch, its rim filled with tags and its crown covered with slips, and it has already traveled over 10,000 miles in an intended trip all over the south, which an agent at Cov-ington, Ky., started it on for a whim several weeks ago. It isn't collecting anything but tags and alips.—Exchange.

ANOTHER WORLD'S EXPOSITION.

To Commemorate the Twentieth Century of the Christian Religion

According to advices from Washington, New York may have a world's exposition if she wants it without controversy or competition. General Wheeler of Alabama introduced the following

WATERSPOUTS GALORE

The Steamer Thomas Anderson Meets With Thrilling and Unusual Experience.

The British tramp steamship Thomas Anderson, 16 days out from Hamburg, | ctins. arrived in New York recently with a general cargo and some interesting data concerning Atlantic watersponts. The respel was 130 miles east of Sandy Hook Friday when First Officer Hardaker observed a heavy, black cloud. The mass of vapor writhed and rolled, and when it was half a mile dead ahead of the Anderson a solid bank of water suddenly rose from the sen. Whirling on its base, white with foam, the waterspout went on to meet the cloud. Half way to the edge of the soud the watersport suddenly collapsed, and with a roar and a crash the whole mass of water tumbled back into the sea.

The Anderson 10 minutes later passed over the spot where the spout had risen. The occur was still in turmeil, and the steamship rocked heavily. She had hardly crossed the disturbed area when the wind veered, and a few mements later four more spouts arose, two on each side of the steamship. They circled around in uncomfortable preximity, and while the vessel passed between them another rose directly astern. When the Anderson was a long way off, the spouts were still wheeling along the sea.

TIS USELESS TO REGRET.

We've done the best we could, my dear. There's nothing to regret.

There's nothing to regret.

We've taught the children many truths
On which our hearts were set.
And if egalast our old time ways
They foolishly protest
We never need regret, my dear.

We never need regret, my dear, That we have done our best.

There's many a plan that's come to naught, There's many a light gone out.
And disappointments, griefs and cares
Have hedged us roundabout.
And many a sad mistake we've made Throughout our lives, and yet We've done the very best we could-

For out of evil good bas come, And out of darkness light, And all wrongdoing in this world

Some day will be set right, And though we have not reached the height Attained by others, yet We've done the Lest we could, my dear— Tis useless to regret.

We've tried to live like honest folks. To do our duty well, Gainst evil things to take our stand,

In goodness to excel.
So judge yourself not harshly, dear,
Nor at misfortunes fret.
We've done the best we could, and so
'Tis uscless to regret.
